Working with an Artist

It's really not that scary. Most of us don't bite, and the ones that do usually don't have rabies. We will work together on size, subject, reference and ideas, and we will review thumbnail sketches to decide on a final approach. Then you will have the chance to see and approve progress at the full sketch phase, and before the final painting begins.

Cost of Commission

Included are some basic starting rates, but fees vary depending on the rendering and finish style, as well as the number of people in the scene, objects and backgrounds, intention of final use, and other factors.

We will negotiate a price before beginning work, and start with a 50% deposit. High resolution digital artwork will be provided, and any printing or reproduction will be at additional cost.
